

ID	2280
Curricular Unit	Depth Themes Psychopathology
Regent	Maria Margarida Nunes Gaspar de Matos
Learning Outcomes	Purpose and Objectives of psychopathological science
Syllabus	INTRODUCTION            Psychopathology: Concepts and socio-historical development            Normal and pathological            The usefulness of theoretical models (main conceptualizations, obligatory)            Psychopathological states (Multiaxial Assessment according to DSM IV)            The individual, groups and the environment (health and disturbance from an ecological perspective)            PSYCHOPATHOLOGY COMPREHENSIVE            Manifestations of disturbed psychological functioning            Introduction to the study of psychopathological phenomena in different areas of mental functioning:            Awareness and Guidance; Attention / Concentration; Memory; Perception; Thought and language; Nonverbal communication; Social competence; Affectivity; Movement; Sleep; Sexual behavior; Feeding behavior; Aggression; Planning / decision / action            Mental Psicopatologia: fenomenologia and classification            Ratings according to the DSM IV and his organization            Emerging issues in psychopathology            Technical Data Collection in Psychopathology
Evaluation	Group work with public presentation            Frequency
Bibliography	Main Bibliography:            Abreu, JP (1994) Introduction to understanding psychopathology, Lisbon, FC Gulbenkian            Belloch, A et al (1995) Psychopathology Manual Vol I and II, Lisbon, Macgrew-Hill            Additional bibliography:            APA (1996) DSM IV, Lisbon Climpse            Pires, C (2003) Handbook of Psychopathology, ISLA