1. General Aspects:

The attendance of the student must be equal to or greater than 2/3 of theoretical-practical lessons; the student is approved in the discipline with a positive overall rating (10 values or higher); cannot get a mark of less than 7.5 in any assessment acts; an oral test is mandatory.

2. Assessment of the 'Theoretical-Practical' module ('simulated teaching sessions'):

a) Presence in the theoretical-practical classes, b) Fulfillment of all works indicated in the classes (including simulated teaching sessions, report of the sessions taught and their presentation, as well as commitment in all sessions performed).

3. Evaluation of the 'Theoretical' module: one thematic work of introduction to research in the area of Pedagogy of Sports Training (to be defined by the teachers).

4. Final classification: a) Theoretical knowledge: research work and presentation (50% of final grade); b) Theoretical-practical knowledge (50% of final grade) divided as follows: Report (analysis of the simulated teaching sessions and their presentation): 80%, and Assessment of the level of commitment (includes participation in classes as 'student/athlete', the activity of teaching as 'teacher/coach', and attendance): 20%.

5. Final Exam: a theoretical exam and a practical exam (if the student is not approved in the continuous assessment, points 1 to 4).
